

'Let me tell you why you are here. You're here to be salt-seasoning that brings out the God flavours of this earth.'

Matthew 5 verse 13

Jesus gave some images that illustrate what the kingdom of God looks like and what that might mean for His followers?

Just as a handful of salt is enough to have an influence on the flavour of the food it seasons, so the followers of Jesus are to have an influence in the world for good.

How might we do that?.....

In Phillip Yancey's book 'What's so amazing about grace?' He uses the image of patches of green.

We are to be those 'patches of green' bringing God's hope to a world starved of grace.

We have to change our society from the inside out.

And how do we do that? By loving one another because God came down and extended His love for each of us when we deserved the opposite.

Ask God to help you offer a random act of grace with someone you might not be naturally inclined to love.
